America Presents a Priceless Heritage

The priceless heritage of the American land, her peoples and her ideals, is ours to cherish and sustain. We are blessed with a birth-right of freedom—freedom to be an individual, freedom to lead or to follow, freedom to mold our own destiny. But this precious inheritance of liberty and initiative carries with it a tremendous responsibility: we have an obligation to understand, appreciate and magnify our priceless American heritage.

The principles of equality, of freedom of expression, of free enterprise, of democratic republican government—these fundamentals of the American way must be borne uncompromised through the strife of the present and of the future. As inheritors of the American way, we must develop a true understanding of America's realities, a deep respect of her ideals, sincere admiration for her past achievements, and intense hope for her future.

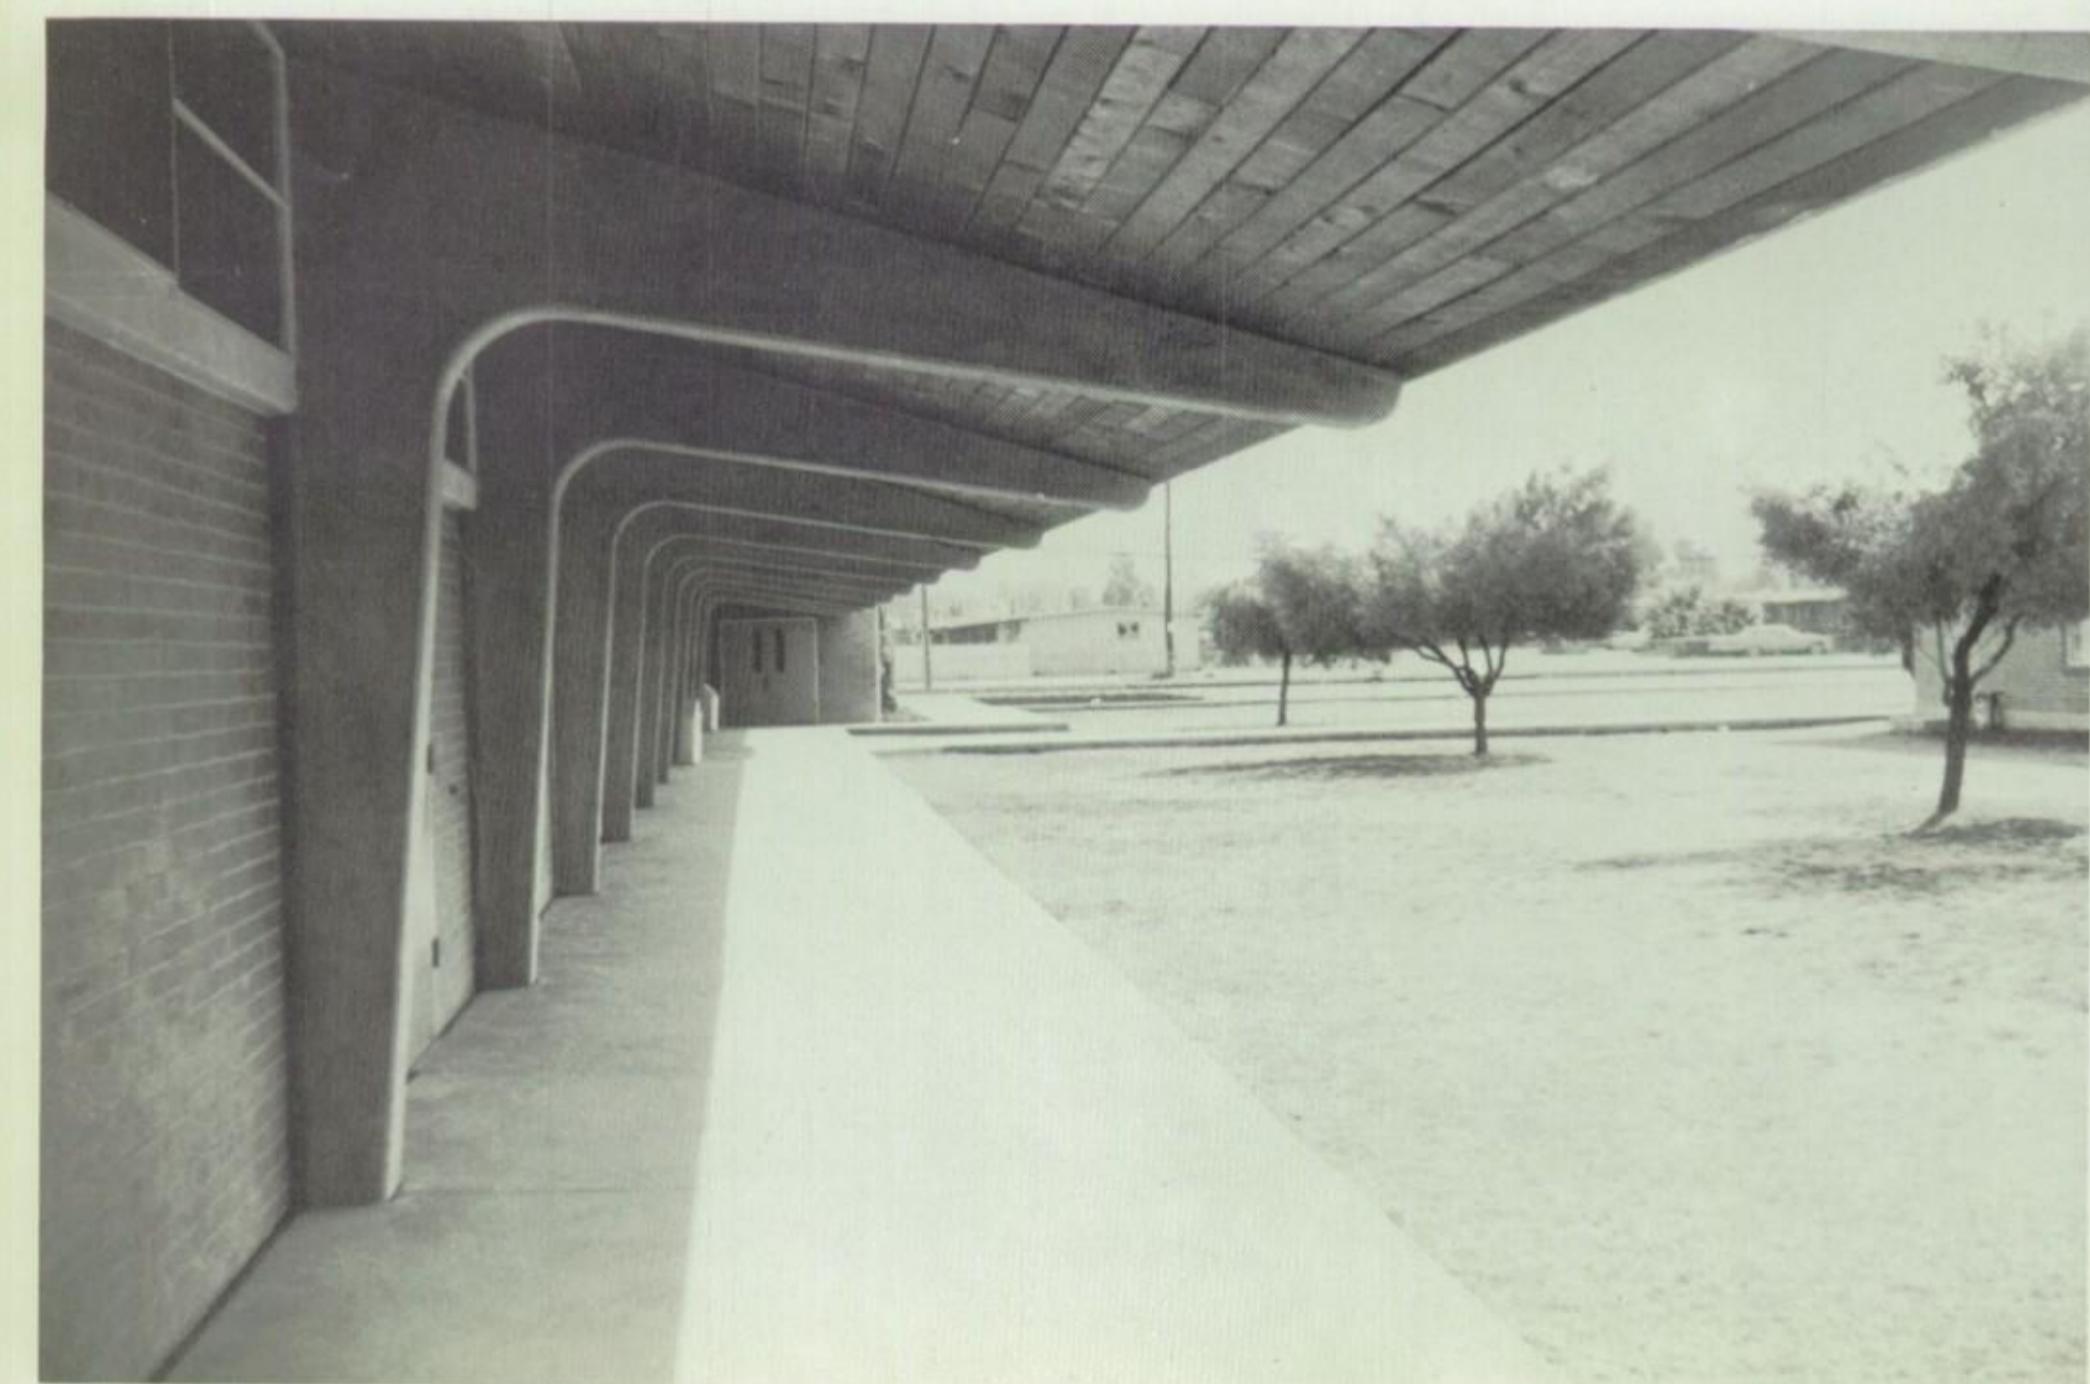

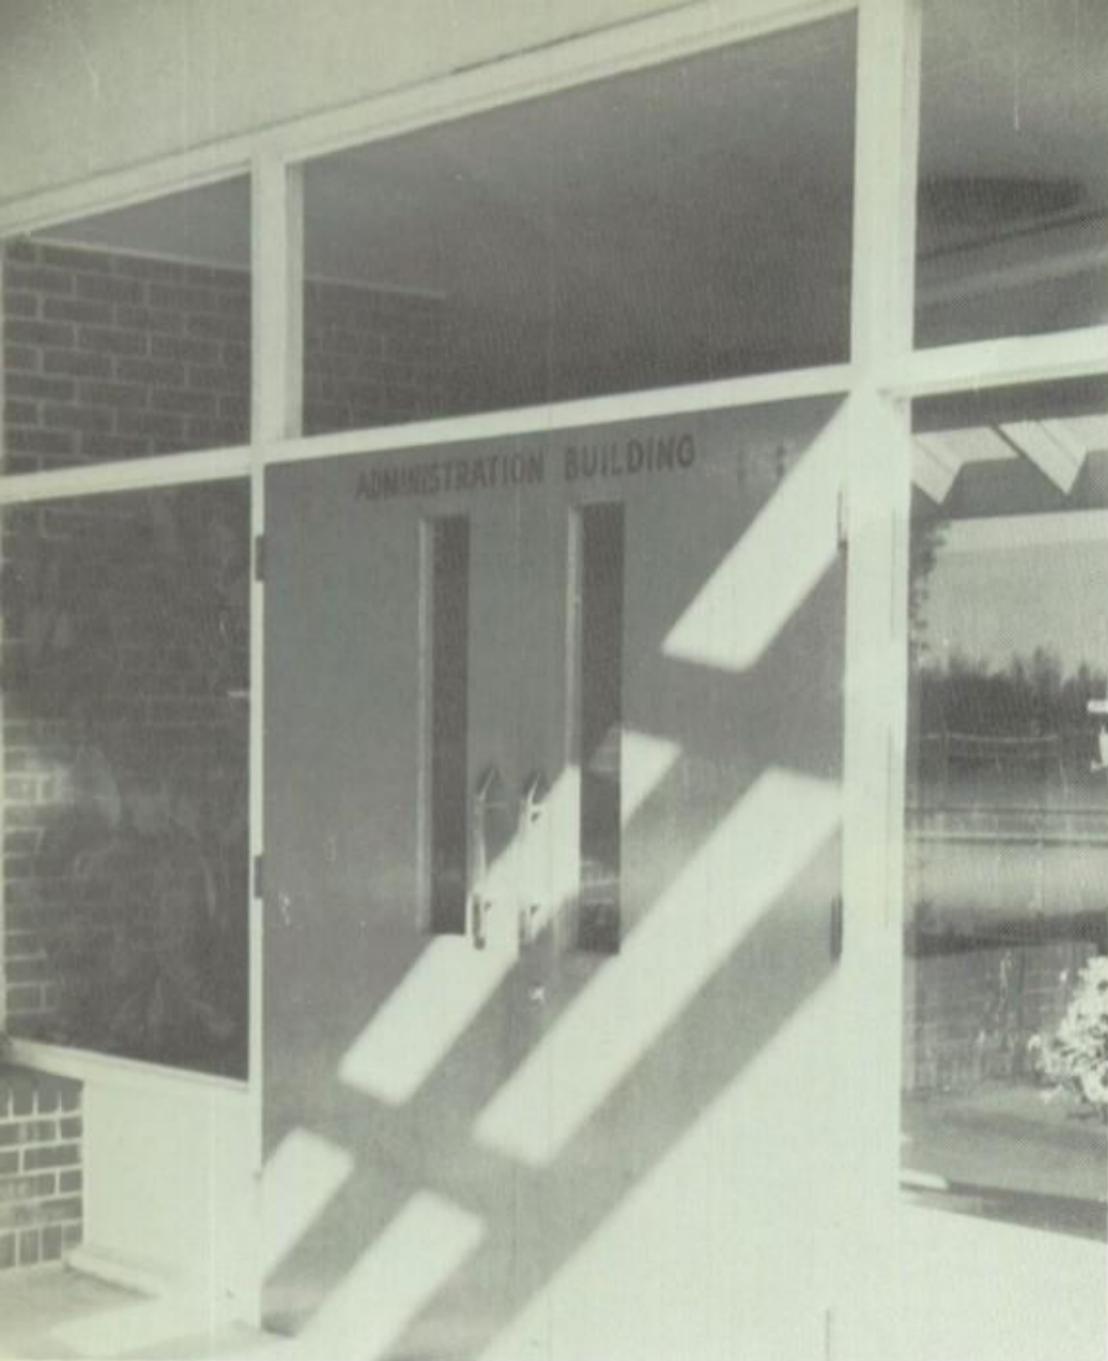

Arizona: a Land of Progress and Traditions

Arizona offers a priceless heritage of fascinating variety to those who appreciate her mystery and magic. It is an infinite land of hauntingly desolate yet strangely beautiful deserts, of plunging canyons, of rushing streams, and towering mountains. It is a land of isolated ranches, of sprawling cities encircled by endless suburbs; a land of cowboys and Indians, whose cowboys drive jeeps and whose Indians earn Ph. D's at the universities. It is an ancient land that has felt the bare feet of migrating primitives, the measured tread of the Spanish explorers, and the tireless steps of the American settlers. It is a constantly renewed land whose climate welcomes visitors each winter and patiently bakes residents each summer. It is a growing land of progress and traditions, of the future and the past, but mainly of the present. The endless variety of Arizona and the adaptability that has resulted is our priceless heritage.

School Life Teaches

The Flowing Wells school system was founded on the principle of free education for all. As one of the great teaching institutions in Arizona, Flowing Wells has retained this trait in teaching hundreds of students of the foundation of our society. Administrators have guided us through the most turbulent and trying years of our lives, and have lead many to the threshold of greatness and fame. They have not only taught us the fundamentals of living in the world today, but also an appreciation of the fine heritage we possess. Each student who passes through these halls emerges with a better understanding of this inheritance, and also finds that he is indebted to those who have taught him—indebted because he must now teach this to others.

*Larry
Hart*

Larry Hart came to Flowing Wells High School three years ago at a time when football morale was low. In these three years he has given students a gift to be cherished. The gift is spirit.

He told the student body at the very first pep assembly that it is easy to cheer for a winning team, but it is far more courageous to encourage a loser. Flowing Wells had never seen a coach work harder than Coach Hart. He had a double job. Not only did he have to create a team but also team spirit. He taught us to fight even when losing, and this spirit has flowed into every part of student life.

For his undying interest in making football not only a team effort but also a school project, the SPUR staff, on behalf of the student body of Flowing Wells High School, proudly dedicates the 1966 SPUR to Coach Larry Hart.

Coach Hart leaves the field after the very successful homecoming game. This victory marked two new records for Flowing Wells and Coach Hart. This was the first homecoming victory in the history of Flowing Wells, and this was the first time we had ever beaten Safford High School.

Mr. Hart's other, and perhaps more important, job is in the guidance department. He has effectively helped students with the sometimes trying problems of high school, and also has helped prepare many students for the world after high school. He is also the Flowing Wells sponsor for the Neighborhood Youth Corps, and as such has helped needy youths find useful employment in the Tucson area.

Administration

School Board

FIRST ROW: Robert S. Richardson, Helen Daniels, John M. Mead. SECOND ROW: H. E. Shannon, Walter Douglas, president. As representatives of the community the Board has contributed much to our progressive education.

George N. Smith Superintendent

Once described as a "young volcano", Mr. Smith started the eruption of new educational ideas in our district in 1953. At that time the system had one school—it now has five. During these 13 years Mr. Smith has guided a system which has grown from approximately 500 students and 20 teachers to 3,000 students and 158 certified personnel. Listed in "Who's Who in the West" as a result of his work in the field of education and his progressive efforts in school administration, Mr. Smith saw Flowing Wells School receive the National "Pacemaker Award" last year. As superintendent of Flowing Wells Schools System, Mr. Smith has contributed to and helped build much of our priceless heritage.

TO THE CLASS OF 1966:

Congratulations to the class of 1966. Your class is not only the largest in number, but one of the most versatile in the history of Flowing Wells High School. Your outstanding contributions to school traditions, scholastic excellence and athletic prowess will long be remembered.

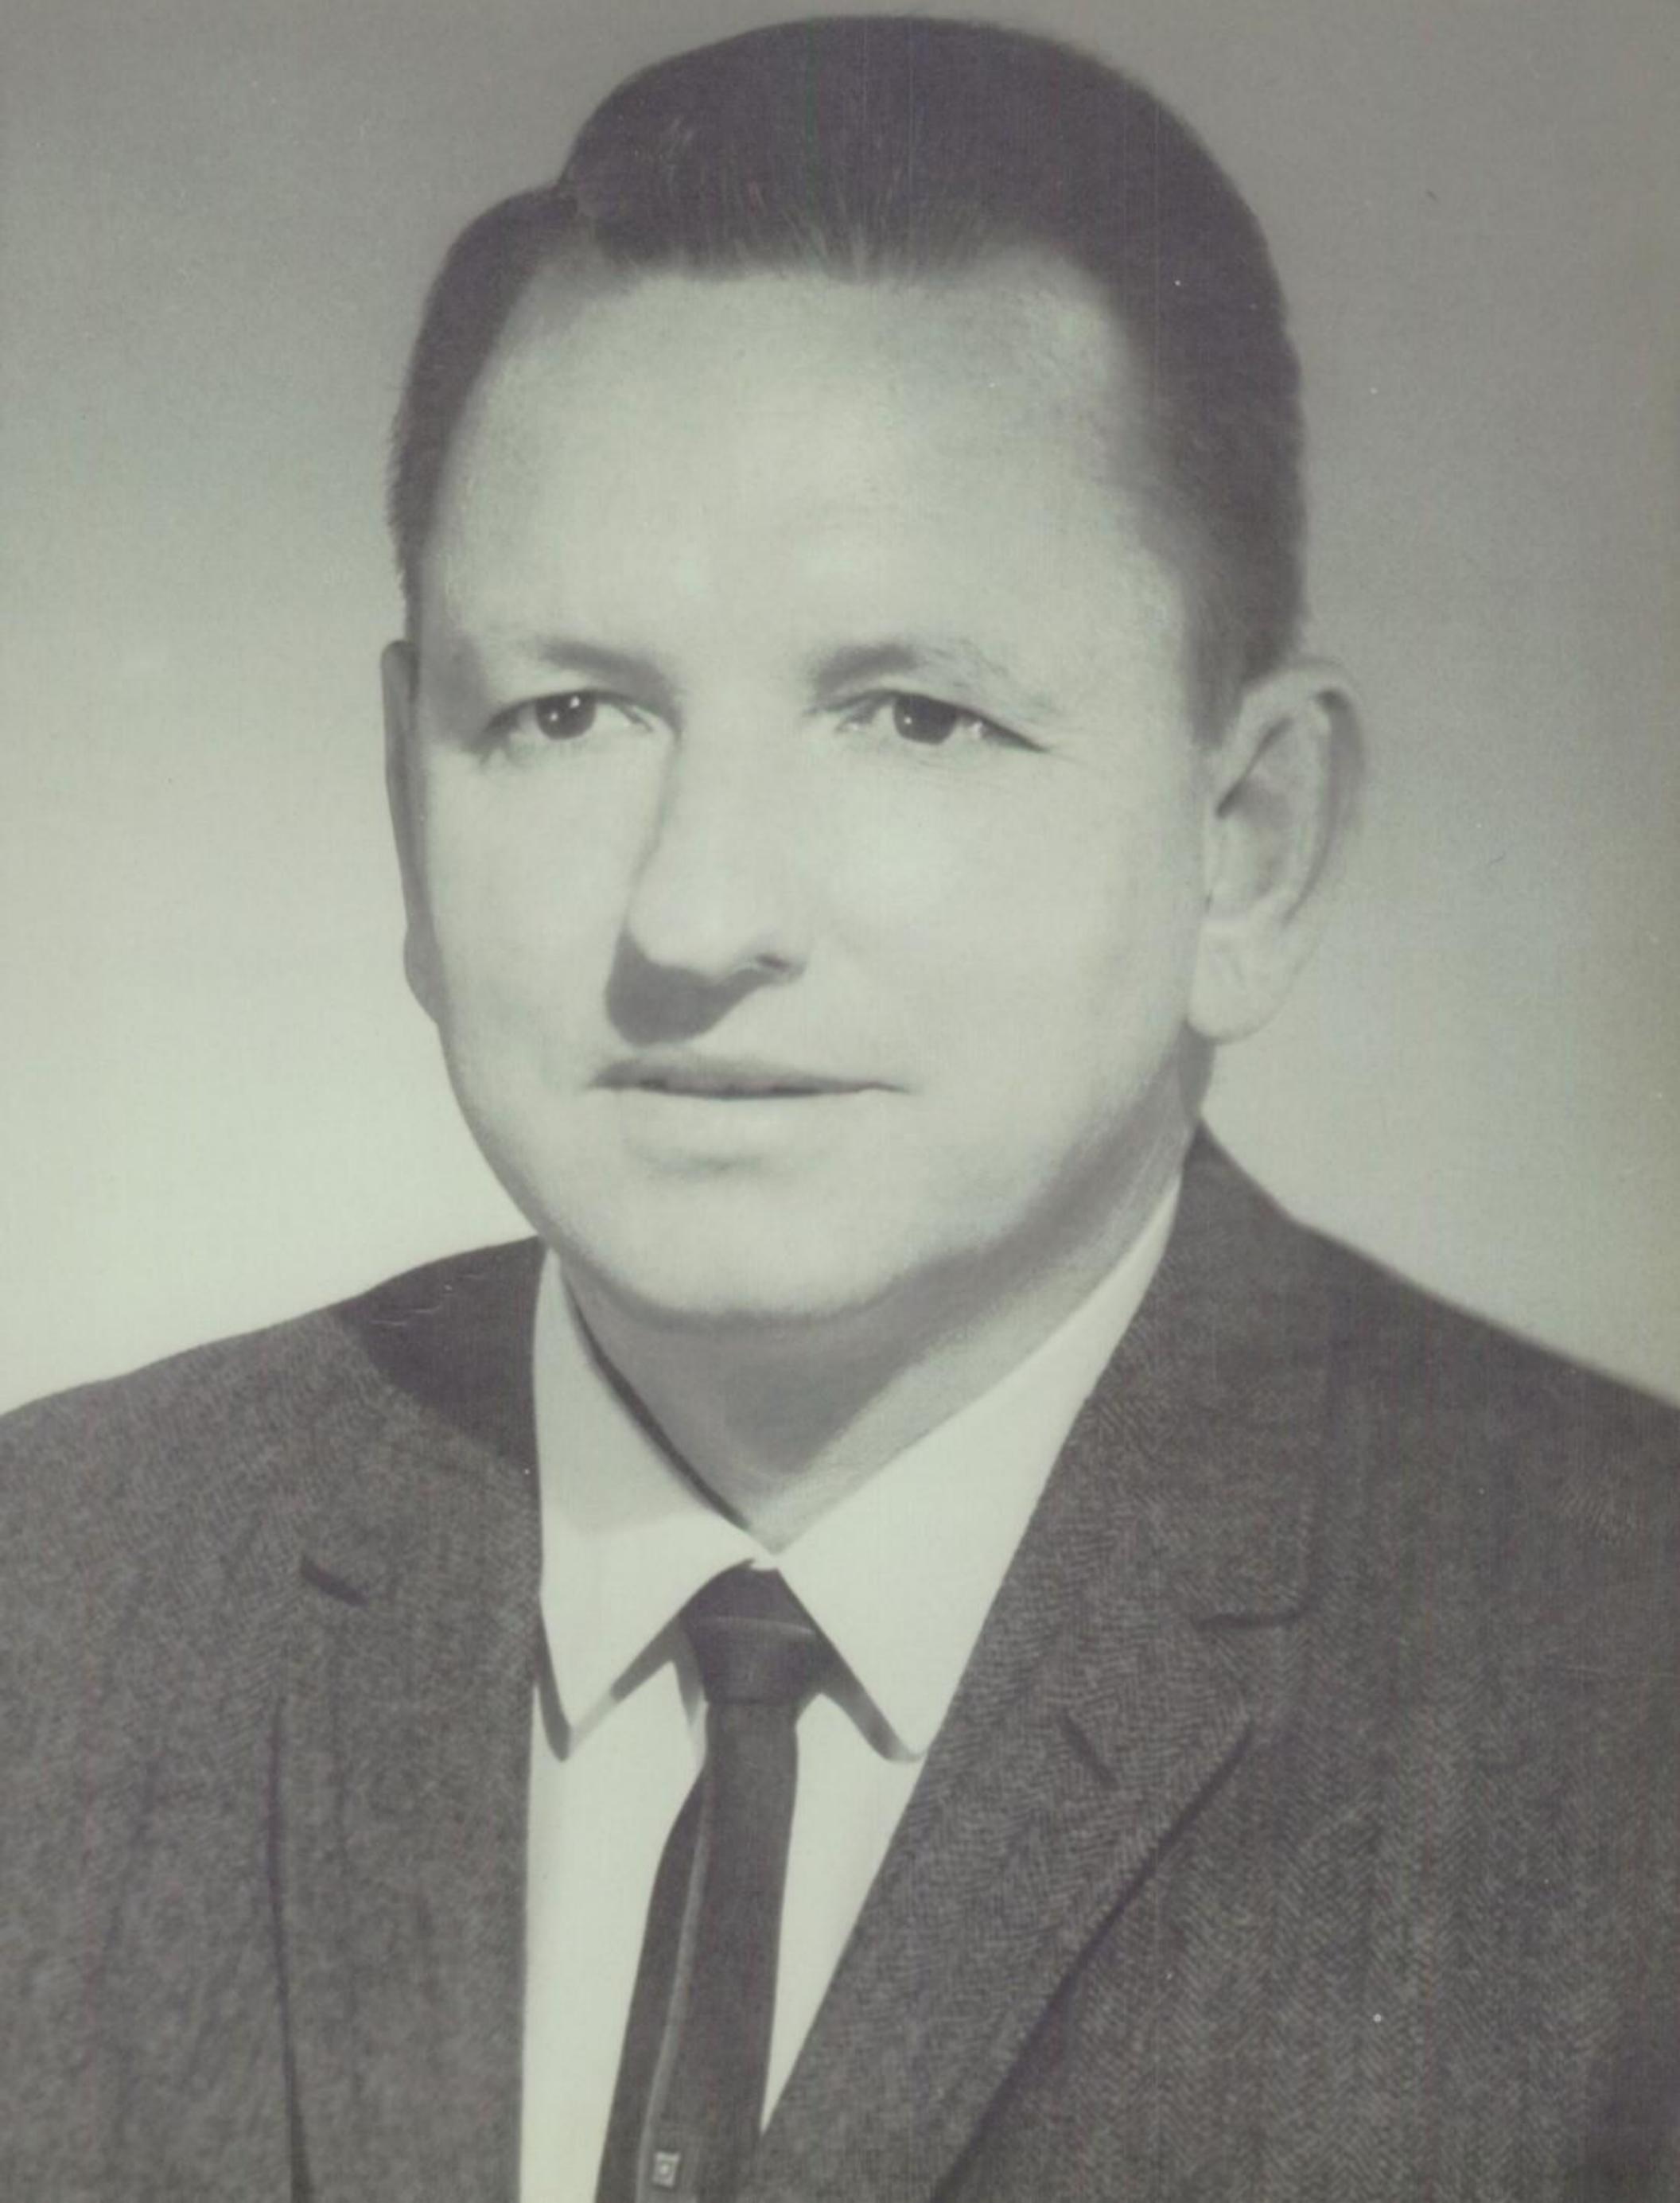

If you will continue to accept the challenges of life as you have in the past, I know that the future will reward you with much success and happiness.

Remember, yours is a rich and wonderful heritage. It is my sincere desire that you will protect and enhance this heritage in all your future endeavors.

Good luck and best wishes.

Very truly yours,

George N. Smith

TO THE CLASS OF 1966:

You have completed the first phase of your education, and you are now at the crossroads of life. The decision is yours—you must decide whether you will attempt higher education or join the field of employment. Consider carefully, because your future happiness will hinge very measurably upon this decision.

May I offer my personal congratulations to each member of this class for the success he has achieved, and may success continue to be yours through the years to come. You have contributed measurably to the traditions of Flowing Wells High School, and I hope future contributions to your city, state and nation will be as rewarding.

Again, my congratulations, and may supreme happiness and unbounded success be yours.

Sincerely,

Mr. William Lovett

Mr.
William D.
Lovett
Principal

Mr. Lovett came to Tucson and Flowing Wells High School in 1956. He worked his way up to the rewarding, if sometimes trying position of principal. Mr. Lovett became Director of Administrative Services near the close of the school year and Mr. Meneley became our principal.

TO THE CLASS OF 1966:

I extend best wishes to all of you for success and happiness. These very elusive goals have different meanings for each individual, but whatever their meanings are to you, you will not have one without the other.

To reach these goals you must be realistic. If you should select a goal that is unattainable, choose another that may be less glamorous but nonetheless satisfying.

Use your best effort in everything you do and be a human being in this effort.

Mr. Victor Meneley

Mr. Victor
Meneley
Assistant
Principal

Mr. Victor Meneley, who is in his fifth year as Assistant Principal, believes that high school students are no better nor worse than they were when he was in high school. However, there are more students today who work diligently to achieve their goals than there were some years ago.

Mr. Joe Harrison Assistant to Superintendent

Mr. Joe Harrison's primary duties are curriculum research and development and personnel. Mr. Harrison commented that Flowing Wells is on the growing edge. By this he means that all the important activities for a modern school are being utilized at Flowing Wells.

Mr. John J. Bauman Business Manager

Mr. John Bauman came to Flowing Wells from South Carolina in 1959. His primary duties are budgeting, sales, and the financial aspects of the school. Mr. Bauman remarked that he believes that Flowing Wells is a well organized school.

Nurse

Mrs. Henrietta Criss

Mrs. Henrietta Criss has learned from her years of experience at Flowing Wells High School to distinguish between a truly ill student and one who merely wants to miss a class. She has been with the school system for seven years, curing and sympathizing with Flowing Wells' "hypochondriacs." Our nurse is truly a great asset to our school.

Librarian

Mrs. Ruth Farmer

Mrs. Ruth Farmer, Flowing Wells' librarian, has served for many years. She has chosen books of the highest quality to give the students a greater advantage toward higher learning. She first came to our school as an English teacher, and then she became our school's chief librarian. She is always willing to extend a helping hand to needy term paper writers and information seekers.

Art

The art department is a vital part of the school curriculum at Flowing Wells. This subject helps students enjoy and appreciate many phases of art. A knowledge of art has many advantages. Both interesting hobbies and future career training can be achieved through this program.

Mr. Lucier

Mike Gabriel demonstrates the process of block printing.

Student displays the various types of lettering done by the class.

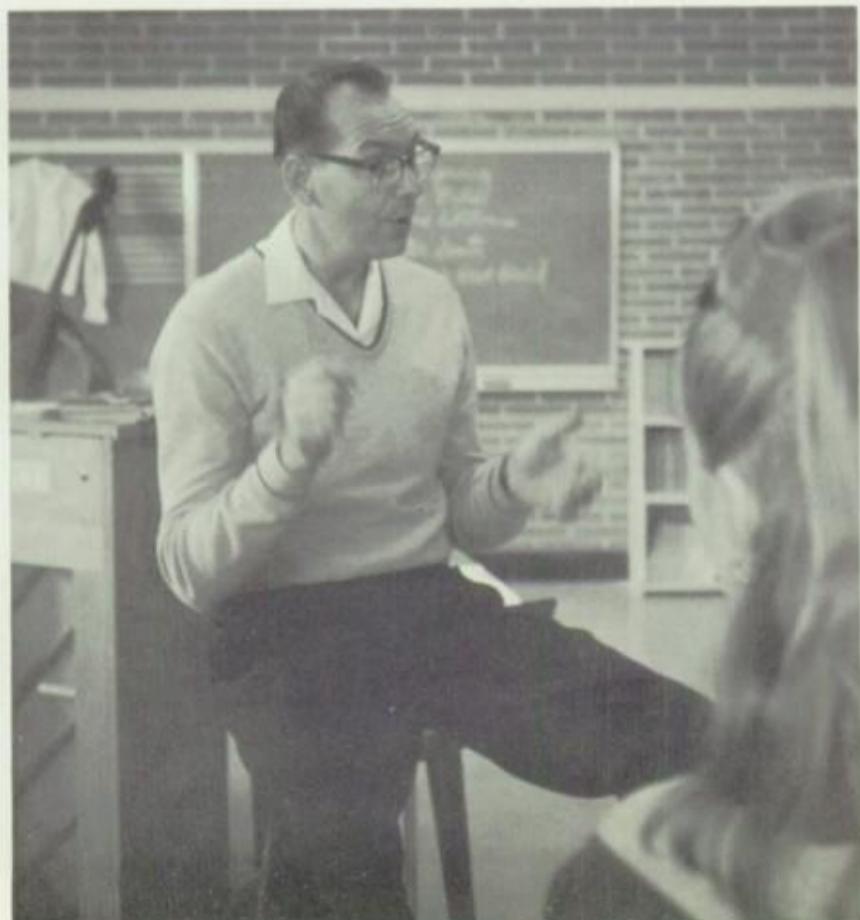

Music

Mr. Lawson

Mr. Hokanson

One of our school's greatest enjoyments is listening to the chorus perform its magnificent talent of singing. Mr. Glenn Lawson, director of music, helps the students to develop their unrealized and unfulfilled potential in the field of music.

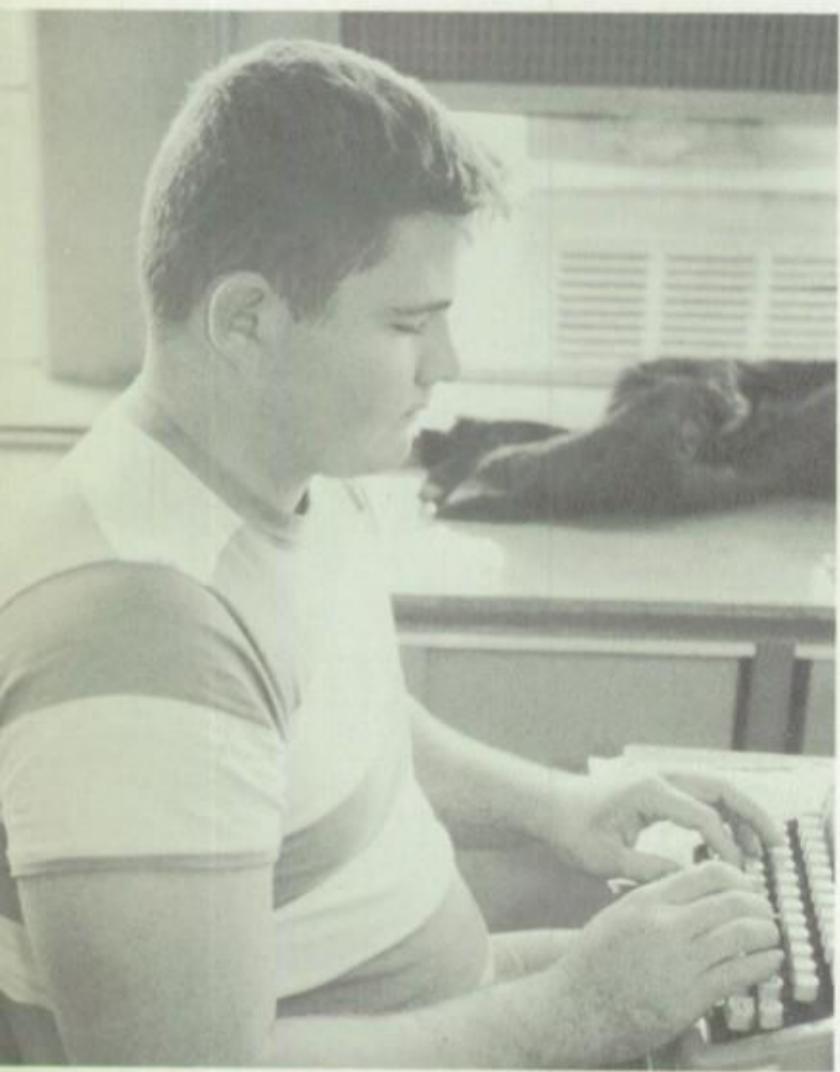

A very familiar phrase in Mr. Hokanson's vocabulary is, "You're capable of doing better. Let's start over again."

"Hunga, hunga, hunga," develops the strength of the voice.

Commerce

Students practice correct typing techniques through classroom participation.

Student concentrates on achieving speed with accuracy.

The four teachers of the commerce department instruct students in the skills of business. They prepare the student in the techniques of typing, bookkeeping, general business, and the operation of certain business machines. In addition, certain students are given actual practice in the high school offices to prepare them for the business world.

Mrs. Miles

Mr. Ness

Mrs. King

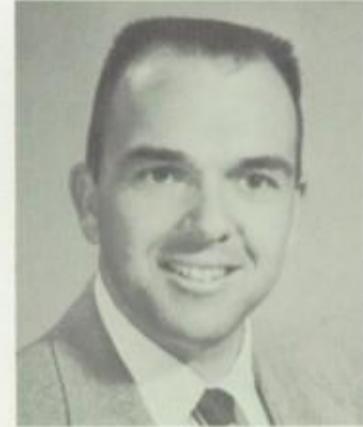

Miss Lee

English, one of Flowing Well's most outstanding programs, helps each individual to think and understand the language and literature of our heritage. English helps students to prepare for the competitive life after graduation. Connected with the English department, we find speech, drama, and journalism which offer students excellent training in specialized areas.

Mr. McCormick

Mr. Porter

Students listen intently over lab intercom.

Mr. Claridge calls on students over lab intercom.

Emily did you say, "No sabo?"

Home Economics

This year's home economic class was divided into two different departments: sewing, with home furnishings; and cooking, with family living. Girls enrolled in these classes are taught everyday necessities of a good homemaker. Home economics is a class where girls are exposed to the exciting experiences of the modern housewife.

Bonnie Childs begins preliminary work of completing a suit.

In Mrs. Davis' class girls learn the fundamentals of sewing.

Mrs. Davis

Mrs. Voss

The Department of Industrial Arts helps to give the students a better appreciation of design and safe practices. This class improves the mind and helps the student to prepare for the future. Under the direction of Mr. Hugh Adams, the shop classes have been able to display various projects in county and state fairs.

Industrial Arts

Mr. Adams

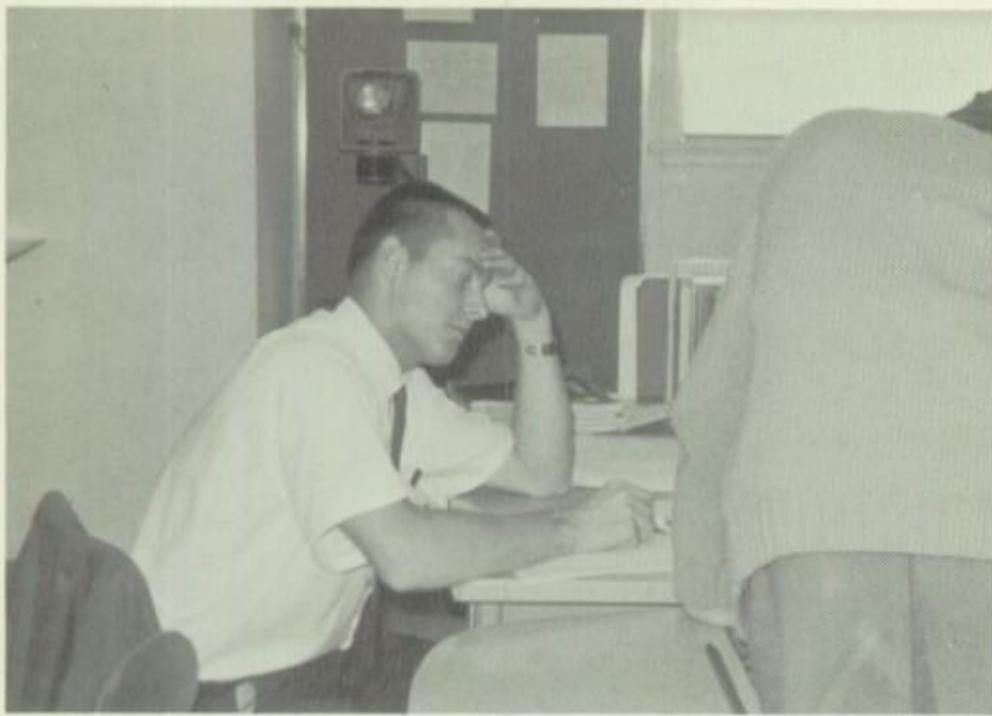

Mr. Barber

Mr. Lim

Leather work is one of the many phases of industrial arts.

Mathematics

Mr. Heard, a dedicated teacher, corrects math papers.

Giving individual help is one of Miss Ingle's outstanding traits.

Science

A new subject has been added to the already extensive list of courses in the science department. Organic chemistry is being offered with Mr. Harry Spaulding as the instructor. Two years of biology are also taught, with the second year including a field trip. There are extensive laboratories in both biology and chemistry, enabling the student to learn through experimentation.

Mr. Thomas uses various methods of getting his point across.

Student Council Provides Training in Self Government

FIRST ROW: Lynn Doughty, Jennie Tom, Bunny Smith. SECOND ROW: Liz Gilmour, Emily Miller, Earlene Baum, Nancy Gates, Terri Myers, Peggy Black. THIRD ROW: Randy Lumm, Don Newman, Mark Sandberg, Steven Davis, Bill Hobson, Mel Howry, Jim McKibben, Bill Woods.

Mr. Meneley
Administration Advisor

Miss Ingle
Faculty Advisor

One of the most enduring traits of our heritage is the right of self-government. Following a tradition that is as old as our country itself, the students of Flowing Wells are given a voice in their government.

Students elect four executive officers and a set number of representatives from each class who serve on the Student Council. It is the duty of council members to represent the opinions of the student body to the administration and other schools. The Student Council also plans and sponsors many of our schoolwide activities.

Helen Holzman

Jan Meneley

Besty Dayton

Helen Holzman

Known to all as Eeyore, Helen, has been an outstanding student at FW. Living in Mexico for her summers, she returned home an expert in Spanish. Her cheerfulness and willingness to work have been of great assistance to the El Caballero staff this year. And according to Liz Gilmore she is also one of the best AFS sisters anyone could have!

Jan Meneley

Jan's voice became familiar to students as he greeted them every morning with the announcements. He was very active in student government as Student Body President and treasurer, and Sophomore Co-President. A major asset to both music departments, he participated for four years in the band and two years as chorus accompanist. Jan was also active in basketball, baseball, cross country and track.

Besty Dayton

Besty has been very active in school affairs throughout her high school years. Her winning personality, capability, adaptability and strong sense of responsibility caused her to be elected class co-president three years and student body vice-president in her senior year. Both music departments benefited from her talents as a clarinetist, second soprano, and actress.

Peggy Black

A smile and friendly hello characterized Peggy Black. Responsibility and dependability personified, she undertook editorship of the El Caballero and Teen Citizen, and held several class offices. Peggy took scholastic challenges with seriousness and maintained a high grade average which ranked her second in the class of '66.

Bill Woods

Bill Woods, a never failing leader of the class of '66, was by all means an outstanding senior. He led his class through the junior and senior years; the most difficult two years any co-president could face. Bill was one of the few seniors who attended FW schools all his life. During this time he participated actively as an athlete, chorus and band member, and an actor.

Peggy Black

Bill Woods

Names Top Ten

Diana Smith

Diana Smith, whom everyone knew as Smithy, was involved in almost every kind of school activity. As head pompon girl she brightened the school with her cheery misspelled posters, her songs and dances during games, and her slip falling off in the middle of "Gold and Blue." A talented artist, she was also very active in student government as Student Body Treasurer her senior year. She was also a great assist to the Spur Staff.

Diana Smith

Tim Sullivan

Tim will be remembered for his many roles in drama productions and his leadership ability. He was District Governor of the Key Club, freshman co-president, and president of the band for two years. Tim was largely responsible for his class' famous musical comedies Julius Ceasar, Macbeth, and Cleopatra and was continually carried leading roles in every drama production.

Tim Sullivan

Bunny Smith

Ellie Douglas

Ellie to many might be remembered as the crazy blond cheerleader who always ran around with a million things on her mind; to some the average raiser of all their classes; to others the band officer who stayed after school until 6:00 working on band business. An accomplished student in several areas, Ellie has been a great asset to the class of '66.

Ellie Douglas

Bunny Smith

Gifted Bunny Smith brightened the life of many senior students. She will be remembered for the contributions she made to her class as a worker and leader. Her variety of talents caused her to be involved with every kind of student. She was a dancer, singer, flutist, actress and an excellent student. Even though she was small, she had an abundance to give—and she did.

Del Morgan

Del made his place in the class of '66 as a student leader and an outstanding athlete. He served as class treasurer for two years and as Key Club president represented Flowing Wells at the International Convention in New York City last Summer. He also played a major role this year in winning the first Homecoming victory in the history of Flowing Wells.

Joe Covey

Salutatorian

Flowing Wells is proud to honor Peggy Black as salutatorian of '66, for not only has she maintained a 1.06 grade average, she has also been active in numerous activities, both on and off campus.

Peggy started her years in high school at Flowing Wells as Freshman Class vice-president. In her sophomore and senior years she represented her class of '66 on the Student Council and has been an active member of the Spanish Club for four years. She held office as vice-president in her sophomore year and president in her junior year. Peggy is a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll.

As a junior she occupied the position of News Editor on the El Caballero staff and reporter for Teen Citizen. In Peggy's senior year she was Editor-in-Chief of El Caballero and Teen Citizen editor for Flowing Wells.

Valedictorian

Flowing Wells High School is proud to honor Joe Covey with the well deserved award of valedictorian of the class of '66. A student at Flowing Wells for six years, Joe has maintained a 1.05 grade average and has participated in various activities. He carried difficult solid subjects and pursued all offered math and science courses. The basketball team benefited from Joe's management during his junior and senior years, as did the Spanish Club of which he was treasurer. Joe was a member of the National Honor Society and Key Club his last two years at Flowing Wells. Hoping to profit from these experiences and the knowledge he has gathered, Joe plans to attend the University of Northern Arizona on a scholarship.

*Key Club
Governor*

Tim Sullivan has been active in Key Club since his initiation during his sophomore year in high school. In 1964 he was elected Lieutenant Governor of his division for the school year 1964-65, and in April of 1965, at the district convention held in Tucson, he was elected to his present office of Governor of the Southwest District of Key Club International.

The list of Tim's accomplishments is great. He is president of the band, vice president of the Thespian Society, and delegate to the model U. N. He has also been honored by the Greater Tucson All City Band for the past four years. He belongs to the Spanish Club. Last year he was elected as the junior Bachelor Attendant by the Girls League.

Girls and Boys State

Students Study More About State Government

An experience in government, a chance to participate in a working democracy, and an appreciation of our heritage of law and government, all go to make up the Boys and Girls State experience. All participants, upon arrival at the sessions are encouraged to campaign for offices, from city commissioners to secretary of state or even governor. After election, policies are set and additional officials appointed so that all may benefit by participation in an active working government position.

Boys and Girls State offers delegates a great opportunity to learn while doing and to develop a deeper appreciation for our system of government.

Los Caballeros de Posos Corrientes

The Languages have become an intricate part of Flowing Wells in recent years. The Spanish Club, Los Caballeros de Posos Corrientes, with the aid of Mr. Porter and Mr. Claridge, was born three years ago when the class of '66 just entered high school as freshmen. Since that year the Spanish Club has grown in size and in accomplishments. Now traditions of the club are the annual Spanish Club Dinner and the presenting of the flag of a Spanish-speaking country to the school.

Now this year a new club has emerged—Le Cercle Francais, under the guidance of Mr. McCormick. It is the sincere hope of the Spur Staff that the French Club will grow and prosper, as the Spanish Club has in the past years, and both will have their own place in school activities.

Peggy Black as editor-in-chief and Carol Annes as assistant editor headed the staff in meeting the never ending deadlines. With confidence and talent, they spurred the staff to complete a year of successful work.

In order to be on the El Caballero Staff one must be industrious and creative. Each member had to have an imagination and ability in writing. Besides knowing how to write well a journalism student must be able to compose headlines and read printer's galley proofs.

El Caballero's job was to keep the student body well informed through feature stories, current events, and reports on sports and club activities. Current trends, opinion polls, and interviews gave the journalism students the information with which to work. Through their experience on the El Caballero Staff, each student obtained a working knowledge in the field of journalism.

Utilizing the theme "Our Priceless Heritage" the Flowing Wells annual staff published the 1966 Spur.

The industrious students with the expert assistance of Mrs. Stevens began working the first of school. A Journalism class provided time every day for the staff of nineteen to plan the yearbook. Adding almost 100 more pages than the previous annuals, the editors revised traditional FW yearbook organization in an attempt to produce a prizewinning annual for the students of Flowing Wells.

School Life

Liz Gilmour, AFS Student,

Liz Gilmour, Flowing Wells fourth AFS student, arrived August 13 from Ramsgate, South Africa. Carl Holzman and his family met her at the Phoenix airport, to give her a warm and happy welcome.

The Holzmans took Liz into their home and helped her become adjusted to the American way of life. After her first week in Tucson, Liz felt quite at home.

Having taken an active part in the Flowing Wells curriculum, she has contributed to the Student Council and as a reporter on the El Caballero.

Although Liz speaks English, Zulu, and Afrikaan fluently she enjoyed learning her fourth language, Spanish. One of Liz's most enjoyable classes was American Problems. In this class she learned many new and fascinating things from her American teachers.

The Flowing Wells Student Body does hope that Liz has enjoyed and profited from her stay at Flowing Wells. She has contributed to the campus by her lively personality and brilliant smile. Flowing Wells will always remember her bright and shining face.

Liz poses with her American family, the Holzmans.

'65-66 School Year Opens

On Friday night students congregated for the annual mixer.

Old and new friends danced to the fabulous (and loud) music of the Intruders.

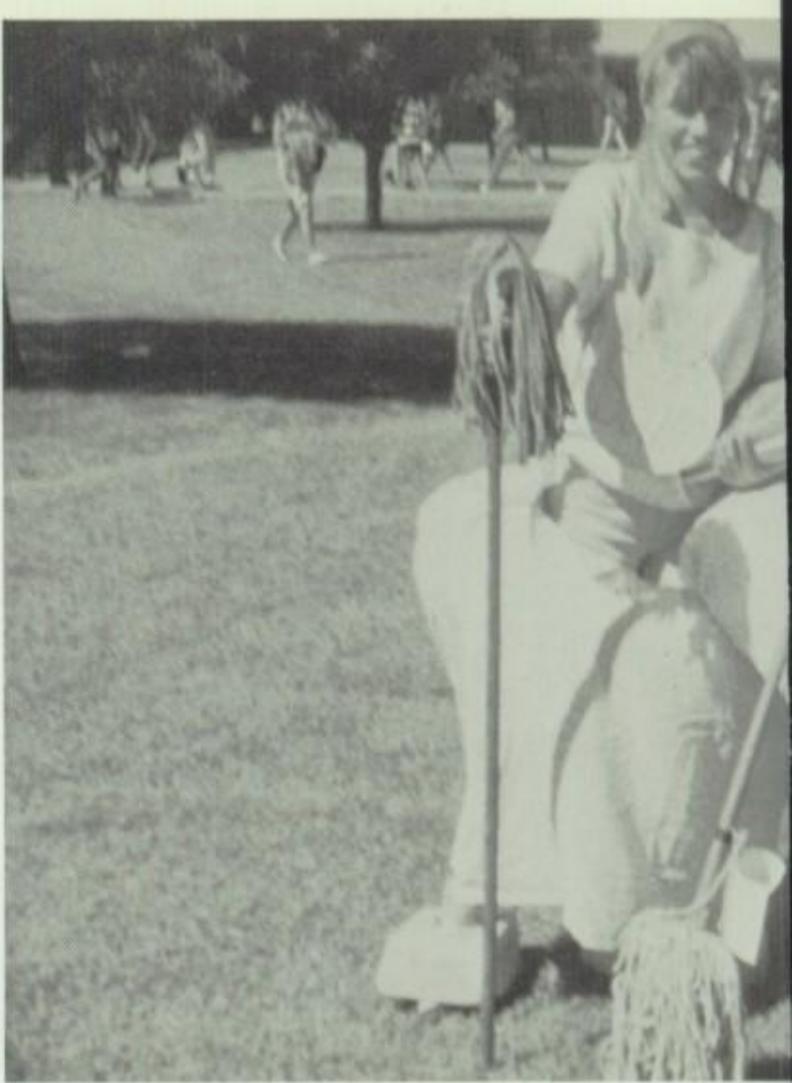

On August 30 over 800 students entered the gates of Flowing Wells High School, establishing a new enrollment record. At 7:45 a.m. assembly was held at which the Student Council officers and members were sworn in, and the rules and regulations of the school were explained. Greetings were given by Mr. Lovett, Mr. Meneley, and Mr. Smith, and then students began attending classes for another year. Later on in the week, a mixer was held by the Student Council, and new friends danced to the music of the Intruders.

Bill Woods, Senior Class president, quenched the thirsts of dancers.

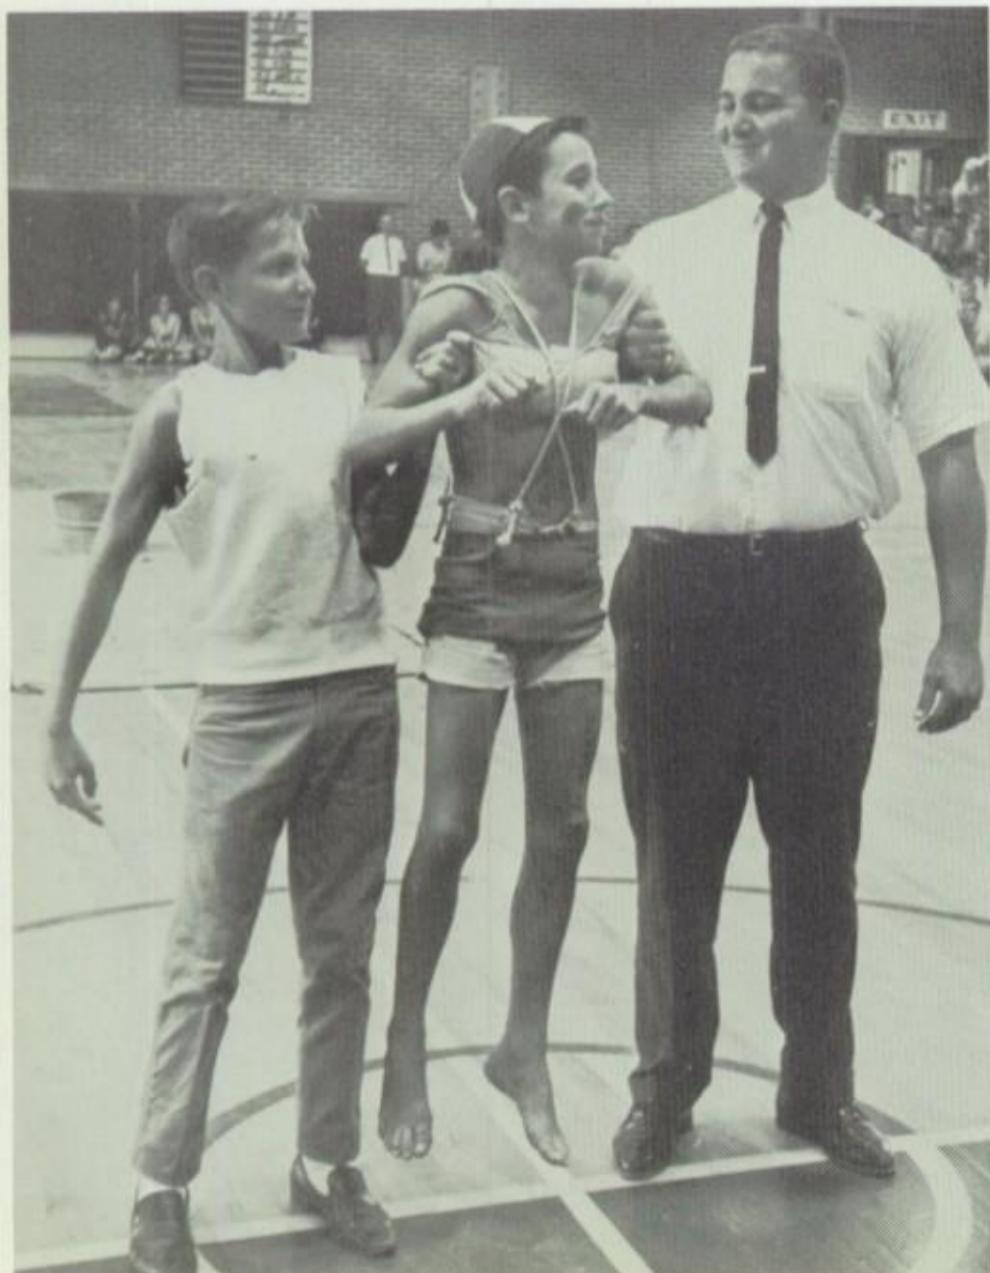

Guy Quisenberry, Johnny Cirelli, and Jim Holladay sat in judgment of freshmen.

Freshmen Convicted, Sentenced on October 1

Danny Sabo and Paul Nixon brought another poor freshman to "justice."

Tony Romero was only one of the many freshmen who served the mighty seniors.

Freshmen girls were required to wear sheets, sweatshirts and inner tubes for dresses, and boxes on their feet as shoes.

Our foreign exchange student effectively carried out the execution.

Laura Bedient portrayed the symbol of justice at Kangaroo Court.

On August 30, 1965, the seniors at Flowing Wells High School were suddenly and viciously attacked by the savage freshmen invaders. By the end of September the senior forces were mobilized for action, after surviving nearly a two-month siege. Senior officials met to plan the retaliatory strategy, and the conflict was soon brought to a close. The participants in the war crimes were brought to trial on October 1, convicted, and sentenced accordingly, thus bringing an end to the attempt at freshmen domination.

Girls Display Many Talents in “Hey Look Us Over”

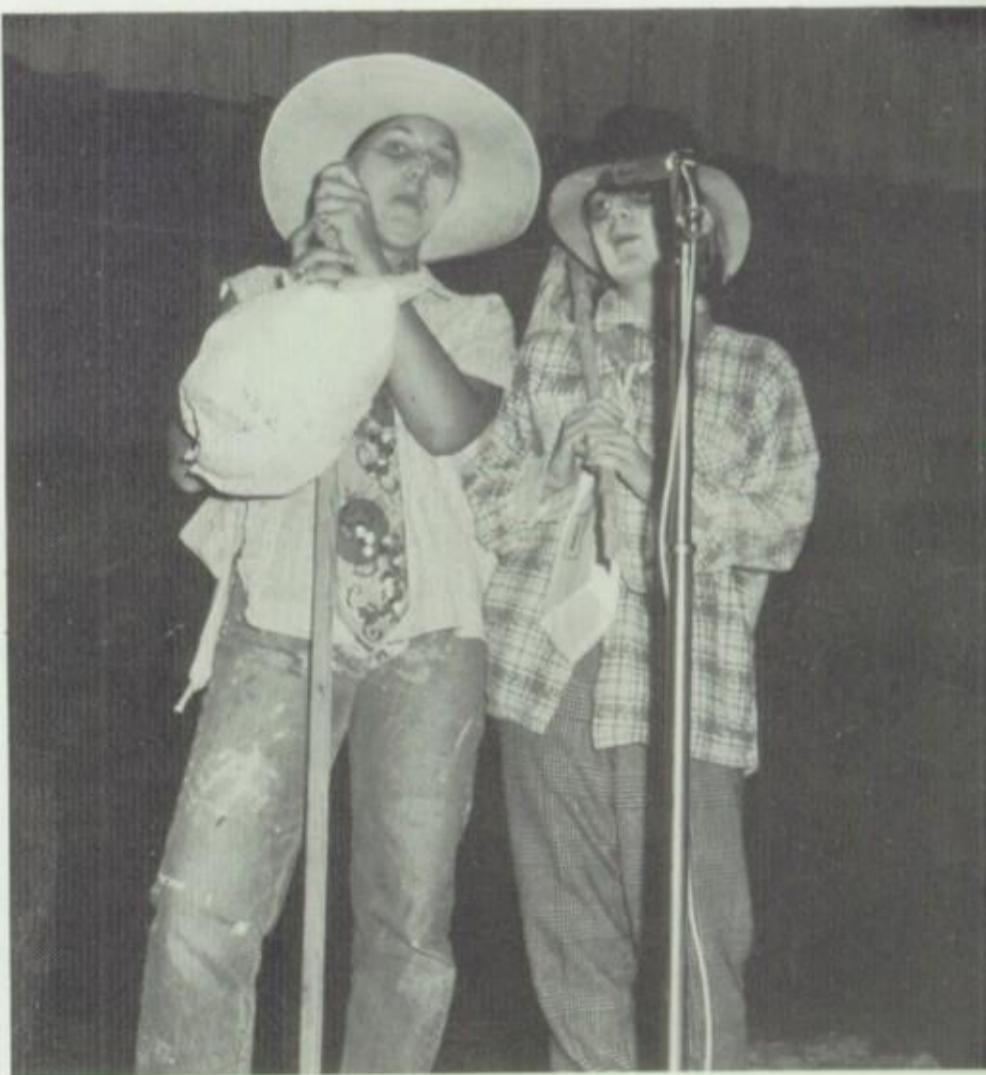

The cheerleaders danced a sparkling rendition of "Tie Me Kangeroo Down."

Mistresses of Ceremonies Sherry and Emily Miller entertained the audience between acts.

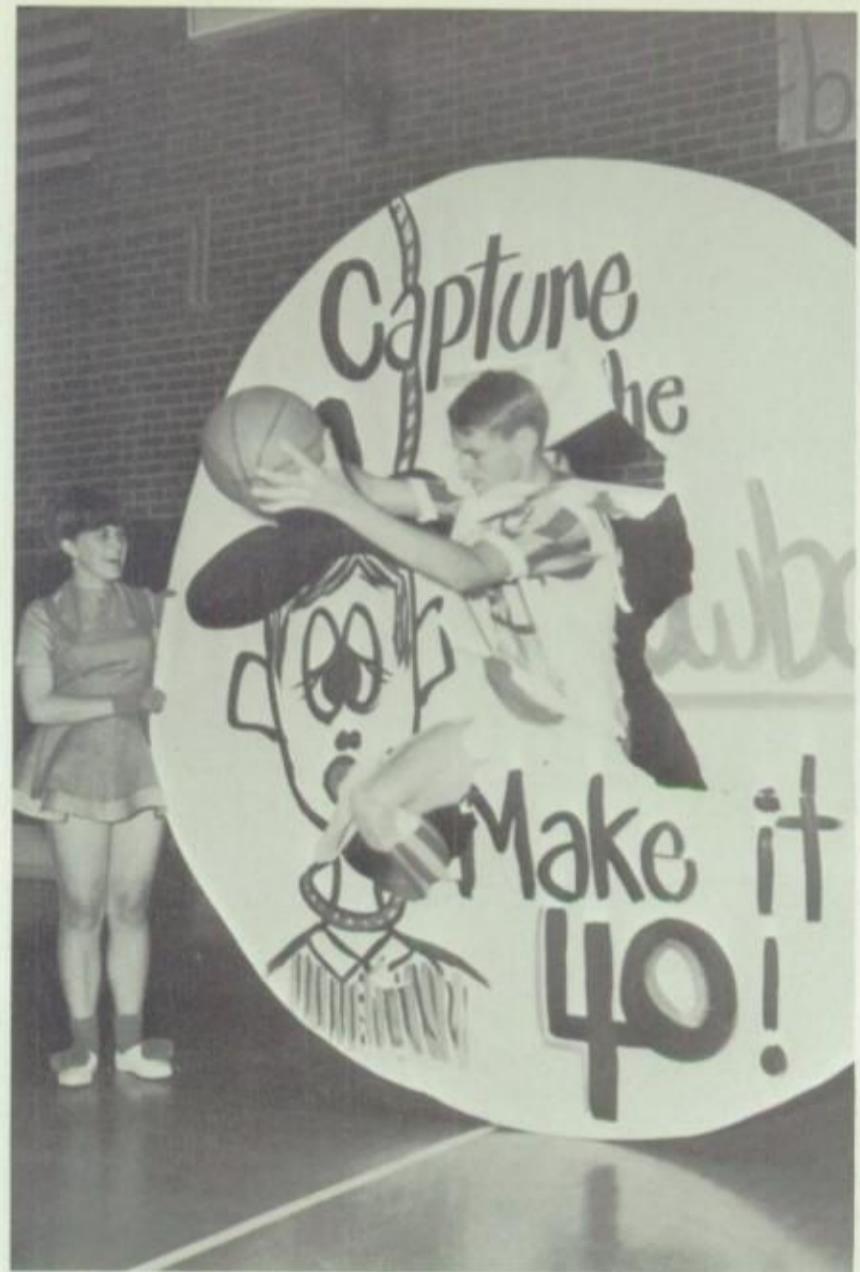

Patty Ryan closed the show with her version of "Hey Look Me Over."

Dressed in hobo costumes, Mary Kincheloe and Kathy Leavenworth sang "Moon River."

Students Suffer Through Never-ending

"These tests sure do give me a headache!"

"I still don't understand."

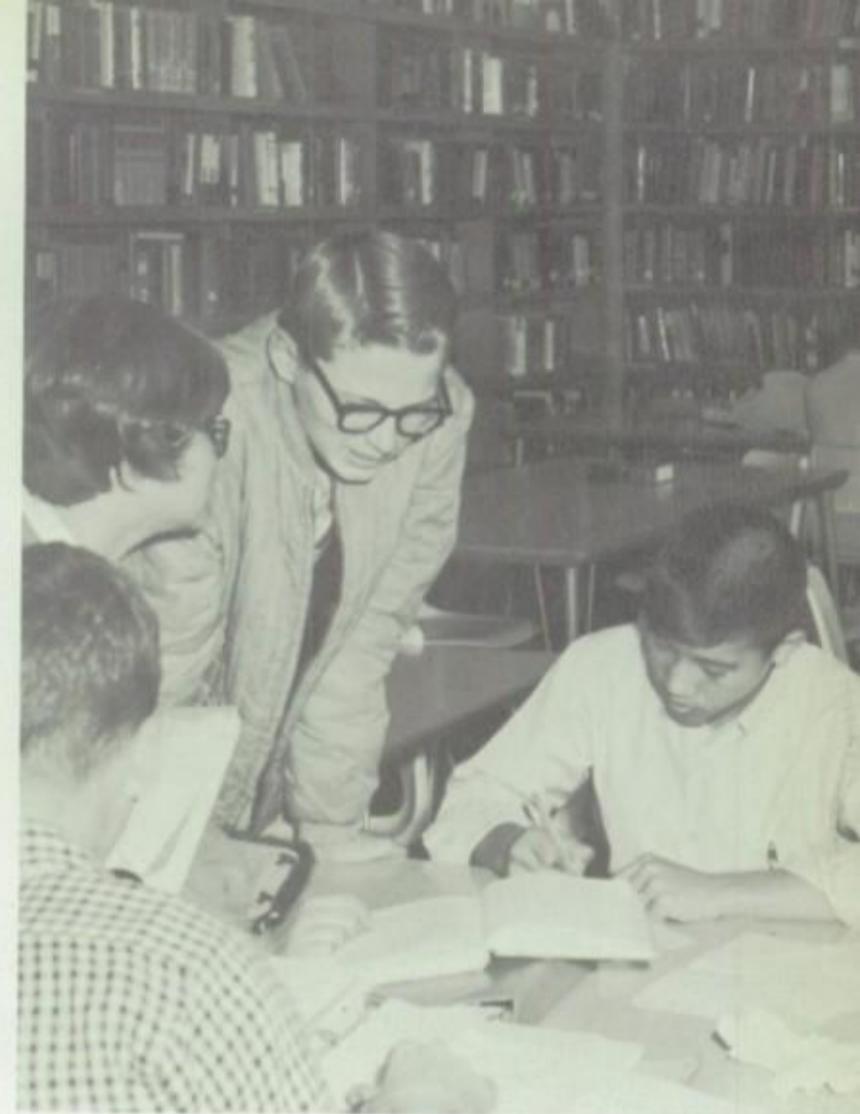

Pure panic plagued Flowing Wells students during mid-term exams. Bleary-eyed and weary from sleepless nights, some students wandered from class to class, trying to keep geometry problems separate from English authors. When it was over a great sigh of relief was uttered by all.

Finding Zacharias, one of Flowing Well's hidden Spirits, entitled students to a free ticket to the dance or game.

"Spirit Week" attacked the Flowing Wells campus during the week of February 7-12. The week's theme was "School Spirit is Contagious."

Class Spirit competition was displayed throughout the week with points being awarded to each class for signs, spirit booster, and new cheers. The Freshman Class totaled the highest number of points at the end of the week and was awarded the "Spirit Week" trophy, designating that class as the "champs" of "Spirit Week" '66.

On Tuesday, the student body participated in "Spirit Password."

Wednesday found all Cabs searching every corner on campus looking for the concealed "Hidden Spirits."

A tug-of-war between the frosh and sophomores, and then the juniors and seniors almost took place Thursday afternoon. However, the rope broke with the first tug.

Also on Thursday the "Spirit Hat" judging was held in front of the library.

The Caballeros celebrated "Gold and Blue" day on Friday, with decorated cars and a pep assembly.

Honors Three Seniors

Each year members of the football team and coaching staff honor three senior players who have excelled in certain areas.

A boy who has shown both outstanding leadership and playing ability is elected team captain. This is considered the highest honor a football player can receive.

In recognition of exceptional ability, the Most Valuable Player is named. This award is given to the boy whose team members feel is most essential to the squad.

The Most Inspirational Player is a member of the squad who contributes more than any other team member to the football team's morale.

Coaching Staff Provides Inspirational Leadership

For the past three years the Flowing Wells football team has been under the direction of head coach Larry Hart and assistant coaches Jim Butler and Dave Thomas. Working as a team, they have created a football squad of which Flowing Wells can be proud.

Coach Hart, a counselor and science teacher, is head coach and in charge of the entire squad.

Mr. Thomas, who teaches first year and advanced biology is the end coach.

Mr. Butler, also a science teacher is responsible for the line.

FW, the A-4 Powerhouse in Football

Weaver carries for a gain as Cirelli and Nixon throw key blocks.

Anderson carries for a gain as Weaver keeps a close lookout for opposition.

During scrimmage, the varsity team practices defensive tactics.

Spirit is what made Flowing Wells the A-4 powerhouse in football this year. This feeling of spirit, instilled in the team by the coaching staff, student body, and loyal followers, is the same kind of spirit it took to win a second straight season and A-4 Division Championship.

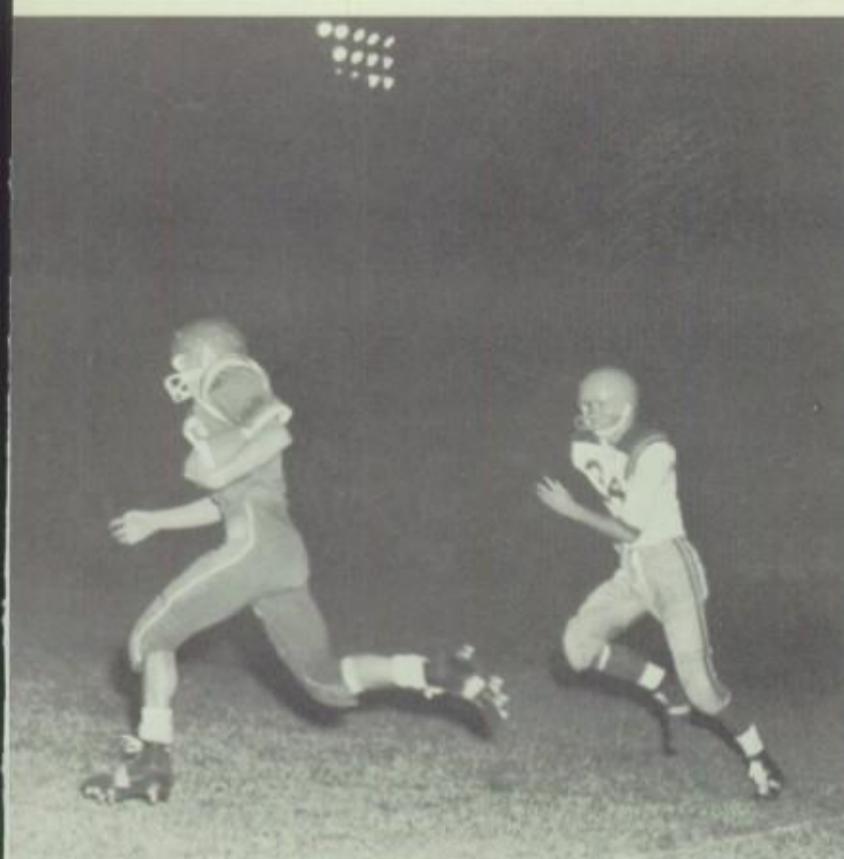

It is the hope of the student body that this strengthening spirit will carry next year's team on to even greater victories.

McDonald and Woods lunge forward to bring down the ball carrier during a Bisbee game.

A Safford player prepares to tackle Weaver.

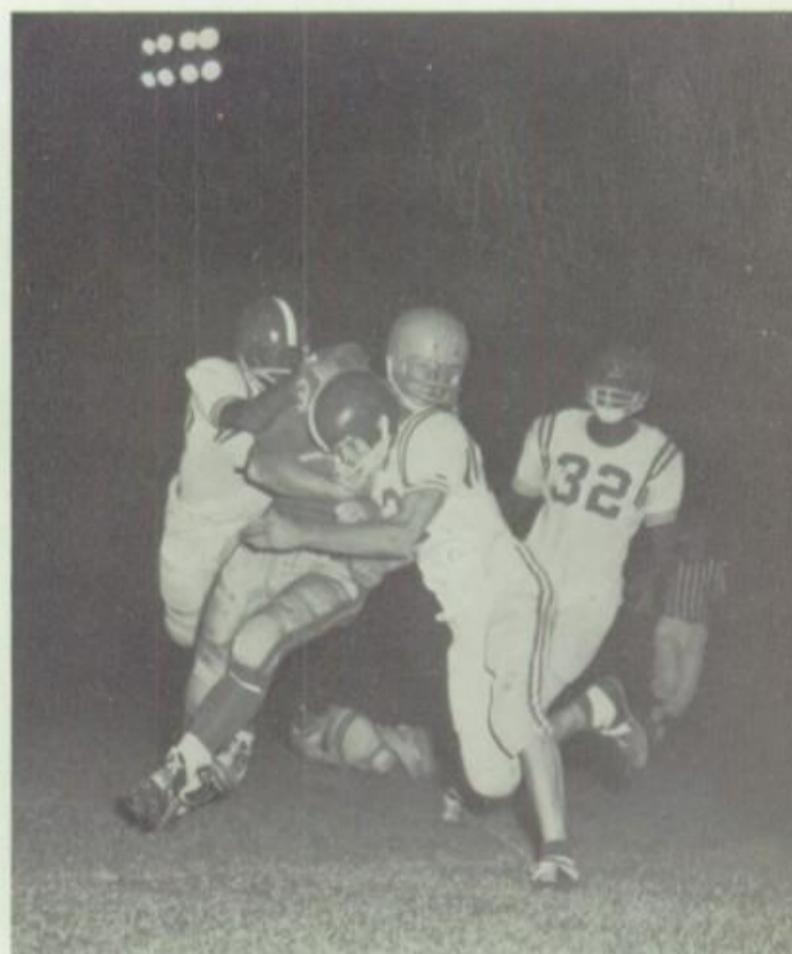

A Bisbee player, running for a touchdown, is pursued by Wayne Brubaker.

I thought you had him!

FW players tensely view Amphi game from side lines.

Ed Weaver strains for extra yardage, dragging along two Safford players.

as he plunges for six points.

John Cirelli faces powerful odds in a Bisbee game.

Freshmen Team

9-1 Record

The main purpose of the Freshman and Junior Varsity athletic program is to serve as a training ground for future Varsity athletics. A year on the Freshman squad allows boys to become accustomed to actual athletic competition with other schools. Another year of Junior Varsity training adds to this valuable experience. Flowing Wells is fortunate to have an extensive Junior High program in intermural tackle football also. This offers a boy four years of actual training before reaching the Varsity level.

in Winning Season

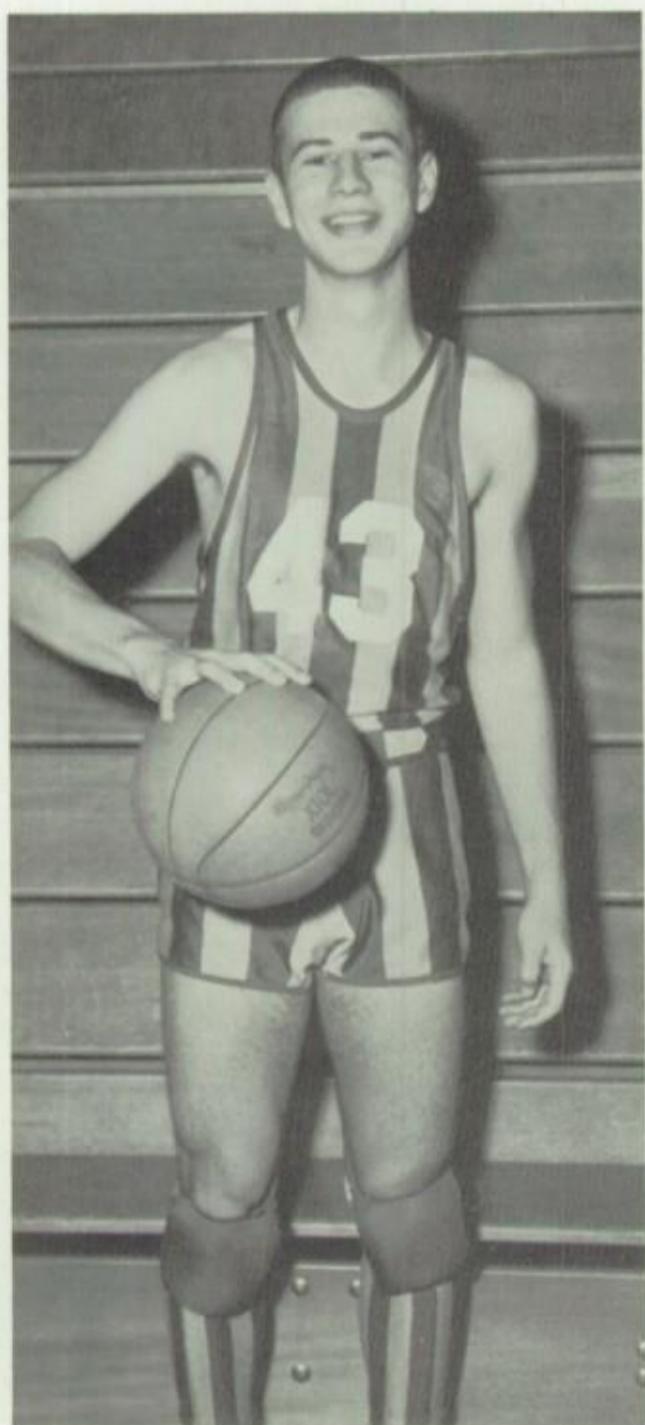

Coach Ed Nymeyer is an active member of the Flowing Wells coaching staff. He also teaches physical education and drivers training. In basketball he has led his team to such honors as the Class A South championship and the State Championship. Mr. Nymeyer believes he has coached the finest players in the state.

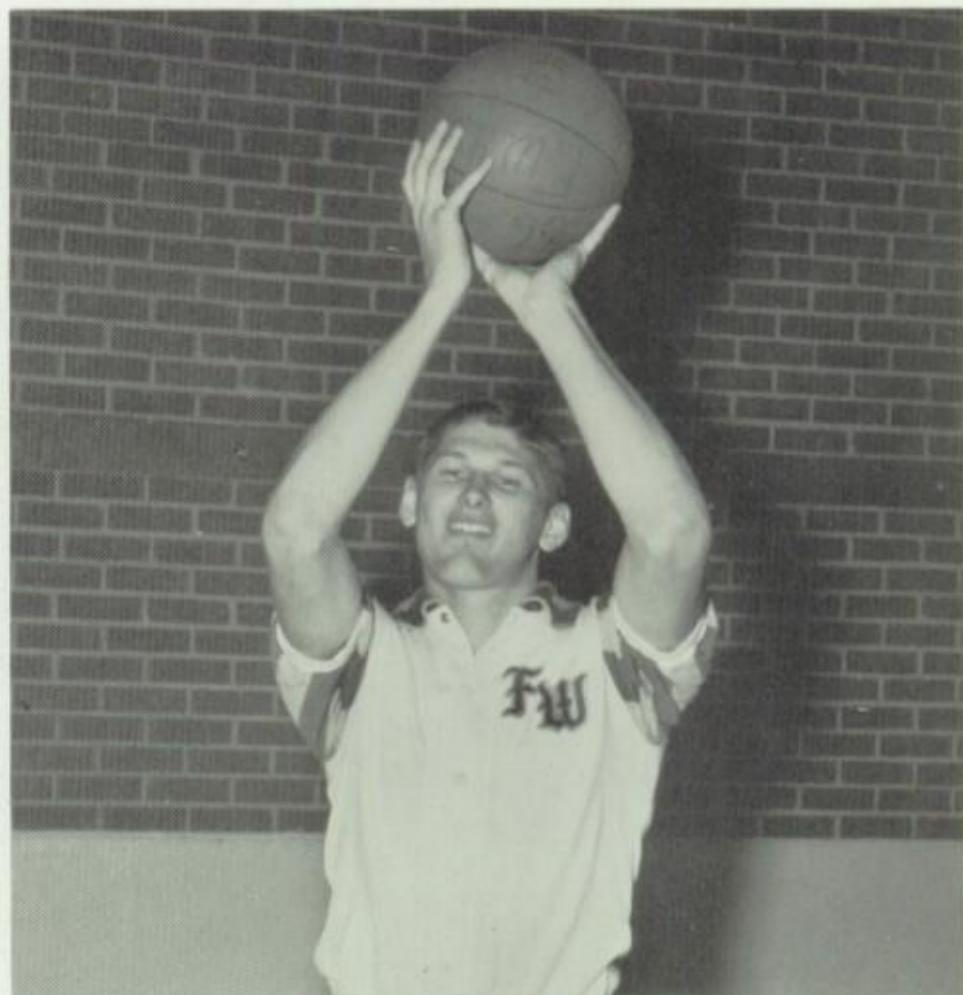

Teaching students pride and tradition is Coach Nymeyer's main goal. He graduated from the University of Arizona in 1958, and received his Master's degree in education there.

Coach Latham and Coach Thomas

In the past few years wrestling has changed from an almost unknown sport at Flowing Wells to one of major importance. With the able leadership of Mr. Thomas, the Varsity coach, the FW matmen placed third in the state two years in a row. The Junior Varsity and freshman teams, under the direction of Mr. Latham, provide excellent training for future varsity athletes.

BEST IN TUCSON

Paul Wilson, left, and John Anderson are classified as the best freshmen wrestlers in Tucson. Paul Wilson managed to score a total of 46 points for a season high score. John Anderson is undefeated after 10 wins and one tie. Both boys have competed against most of the schools in and about the Tucson area.

Tom Land riding in the top referee position.

Losing only two meets all season, the Flowing Wells Junior Varsity wrestling team performed well beyond all expectations. With a 9-2 record they built themselves into a well rounded team, worthy of Varsity positions next year. With a deficit of about 15 or 20 points for every meet the Frosh trounced Salpointe.

Cross Country

This year three teams golf, tennis, and cross country, have put together hard work and determination to produce good results in every field.

The golf team started the season weak, but Coach Ed Nymeyer drove his team on to better playing and lower scores.

Tennis teams also obtained good results. Both girls and boys teams, coached by John McCormick, came through with a fine win-loss record.

The cross country team, while being short-handed all season with only six runners, through much perseverance they made a creditable season for themselves.

Golf Team

berry, Tom Peterson, Rod Branham, Steve Davis, Coach Latham.

Outstanding Athlete

Devra Wilson

For the past four years, Devra has been an outstanding member of the Girls' Athletic Association, and she has participated as a member of every major Varsity team.

As president of GAA, Devra's contributions have been many. Working with the Girls League Council, she has helped the group raise enough money for a scholarship, has paid money to the Spur and has provided money for next year. Therefore, this year's award has gone to a president who has inspired her officers to work.

Flowing Wells High School has a sound heritage in both mind and spirit. The greatness that founded this school has served as a basis for the lives of hundreds of individuals. The Senior class has contributed and reaped from this heritage. Their contribution, like that of many classes before them, will live in the spirit of those who follow. Each one of us builds on the heritage that is bequeathed to him, and each contributes in some way to others. The Spur staff is grateful for the opportunity it was given in setting down for posterity the school year 1965-1966. It is our sincere wish that it will become a cherished part of your heritage.

Jim -
the cowboy from the wild west - no? So now you're an old man ~~old~~ wild - great, hope you're summer will be great you know P.R.'s the best (?).
Good luck always, careful in passes
Vietnam. Don't make too many passes or give ~~yourself~~ ¹⁶⁶ Pearl over High School

Jim,
Much water
under the bridge
since you were in PRHS. Hope you've had a hell of a time since then & from now on.

Best Wishes
Bruce

Know,
Good luck in all you do
and more if you do or maybe just for fun.
The good (?) better.) Remember the good (?) times we've had together.
